Igniting Learning Journeys
啓育學習旅程

Dear Friends of CDC,

We have reached the middle of the school year without any pandemic disruption and hope that you are all doing well!

Through the latest Parent Survey, we received plentiful feedback from our families, helping us improve and refine the current programmes, services, and policies. We appreciate your many positive and constructive comments and kind messages about the CDC and our staff! We have prepared some feedback in response to your questions and comments. Please click here to read the full article!

Moreover, in this latest newsletter, we are happy to share with you the recap of this month's fun Hong Kong Disneyland trip and the two upcoming workshops for caregivers or families - the "Caring for Caregivers" free workshop hosted by our psychologists, and the festive "Easter Music Egg-hunting" workshop the CDC is co-organising with Soundness Studio. Sign up now before missing out these time limited opportunities!

Lastly, remember to check out the latest SEN Tips written by our teachers or therapists in order to understand your child's learning needs more; also, do not miss out on the upcoming SEN-related events!

Warmest wishes for a joyful Easter holiday!

Best Regards,
Team CDC

In the News

A Magical Day for CDC Families!

With the generous support of HK Disneyland's Community Involvement Programme, about 50 CDC families (210 participants) enjoyed a magical day in Disneyland this month, sharing some precious family time. We are delighted to see everyone's smile!

Caring For Caregivers Workshop (Apr - May)

Co-organised by the CDC and Hub for the Future, the workshop will enhance caregivers' understanding of the needs of children with ADHD, teach effective behavioural management strategies, and provide parents with emotional support. Sign up now!

Easter Music Egg-hunting (2 Apr)

Don't miss out this Easter themed workshop where children will hop like bunnies in rhythms when learning musical intervals and enjoying live music! Apart from Easter eggs, families will also take home a crafty handmade musical instrument.

5 Tips to Help Develop Joint Attention

Joint attention happens when children share a common focus on the same object, person, or event. It is a pivotal skill and a must for communication, learning and relationship-building to occur. Learn the 5 tips to help your child develop their joint attention!

Differences between Dyslexia & Dyscalculia

Among the many types of Specific Learning Disorder (SLD), two of the most commonly experienced deficits include Dyslexia and Dyscalculia. Yet, how can we tell them apart and what are some of their early signs that we can observe for?
